

From: Adrian Malarbi
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/16/02 10:43pm
Subject: Re: MacNN: The Macintosh News Network

Ban M$ from being able to have their OS pre-installed on new pc's.

Judge, back in the early days of computing we had choices, we had, Apple, Amiga, Atari ST, Amstrad etc, M$ then ripped off Macintosh and found a loop hole to sell its OS thus using illegal tactics to control the clone pc market.

Lets get back to the stage when we had more than 3 choices for an OS, face it judge M$ having had 8 years of pc to itself hasn't really advanced, they just wait for the little guy to innovate and take the risk, if they succeed then M$ rips off their idea and makes it hard for anyone to install that original application.

This is harmful to competition and one day will be the computer industries downfall.

Be the Judge that made computing fair again!

It was smart that u listened to Steve Jobs about the education market.

Adrian.